DISCUSSES MISSION WORK

Mrs. John R. Riehe tells of the life of African natives. To the hundreds of the African natives of South African tribes were told by Mrs. John R. Riehe of Scottsdale, a former missionary, at the meeting of the Christian Culture Class of the Trinity Lutheran Church Thursday night. The pitiable condition of the women of these tribes was emphasized by the speaker who possessed a fund of intimate knowledge of the subject through her missionary work of several years.

"Can you imagine any of these young women taking her sick child outside the village and leaving it there alone in the bushes?" Mrs. Riehe asked. "Yes," she continued, "that is just what many mothers are doing tonight in certain tribes of Africa. The custom of the tribe prohibits anyone from living in a hut or village in which a death has occurred, so in cases of extreme illness the sick one is carried out by command of the men of the camp and left alone to be prey of hyenas while the poor mother weeps her way back to her hut with the plaintive cry of her little one lying in her arms."

Mrs. Riehe talked for more than an hour on various phases of missions work among the heathen tribes of Africa.

PERFECTION Smokeless Oil Heater

Keep it ready by your bedside, spreading its genial warmth all through your sleeping room; then, just as soon as you roll out of bed, put your Perfection in the bathroom. In less than no time this, too, will be warm—not too warm, but just right.

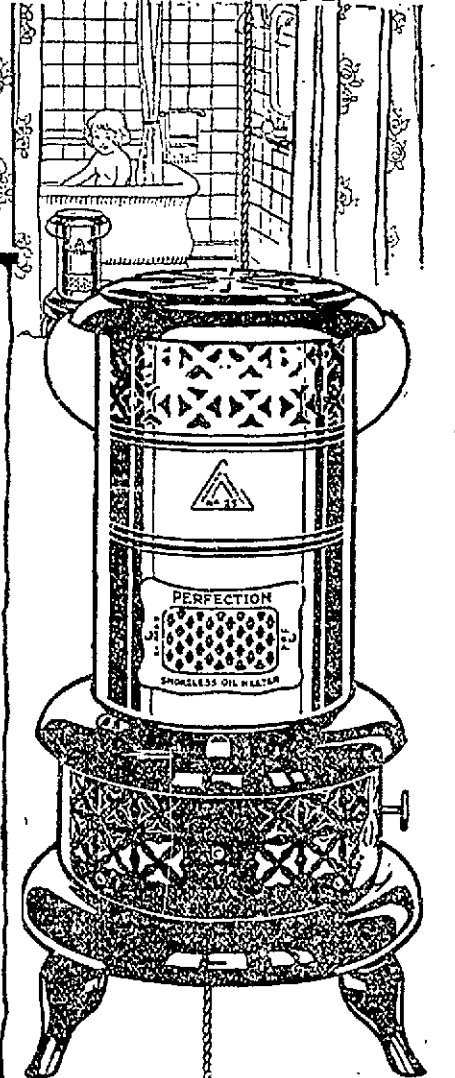

A Perfection heater makes the usual winter ice-cold tiled floor but a memory. Because of recollections of past discomforts, once used this heater becomes indispensable to your comfort.

It is a perfect heating device, burns without a trace of smoke or smell. Its fuel economy is pronounced, the more so if you use Atlantic Rayolight Oil. A large one-gallon tank makes constant refilling unnecessary.

Almost any dealer will gladly demonstrate a Perfection Oil Heater. The modest price ($2.75 to $5.00) will especially please and astonish you.

Got any rusty pots or pans—so badly rusted that you feel like throwing them away? Don't. Instead, clean them with Atlantic Rayolight Oil, and as if by magic, the rust will disappear. What do you do with kerosene? If you know any real good uses, you'll enjoy reading later advertisements.

My Name Is Coffee I Fool the People

All the people can't be fooled all the time, but I've been pretty successful in fooling part of them, although more and more, I am sorry to say, they are getting wise to my pretensions.

How do I fool them? I'll tell you.

When scientists say I am not a food, I tell the people that coffee "is a food," and when drunk "with hot milk—a meal in itself," we may say.

Then when the court says, "coffee is not a food," I trim my sails to the breeze and tell the people "there is no reason for supposing that coffee possesses any value as a food."

Nevertheless, to keep them coming, I tell them it is a "half food," "an encouraging contribution to human efficiency." And the people—some of them—fall for it.

When noted authorities say the caffeine in coffee is a poisonous drug and hinders digestion, I bring forward some chaps who say it "is not a poison;" "It is an aid, not a hindrance to digestion." This fools some.

But there has been such a stir against me, especially by Postum, that I am hard put for arguments, so one of the latest things I am telling is:

"Beware of taking coffee with a lot of cream in it." It is the cream, I try to make it appear, and not the drug, caffeine, that makes a combination that "will in time lead to chronic indigestion and stomach, heart, and liver troubles." And some believe me—I hope.

But I whisper on the side to people who like cream in their coffee, "Coffee is always improved when cream is added to it." You see, I get them coming and going.

There's one safe way with coffee. Quit it, and for a pleasant, delicious, wholesome, nourishing beverage, use

NO MORE BACKACHE, NO MORE MISERY

Hundreds of people have been relieved of the agonies caused by weak, diseased or clogged-up kidneys by using Solvax, the new remedy that quickly reaches the source of all kidney complaints.

If you suffer with pains in your back and sides or have any signs of kidney or bladder trouble such as rheumatic pains, puffiness under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, if you are nervous, tired and run-down, or both, and have urinary disorders, Solvax will quickly and surely relieve you of your misery.

Solvax is probably the most potent remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It neutralizes, dissolves and melts the kidneys with all the uric acid and poisons left by the blood, and renders the kidneys and urinary organs clean, vigorous and healthy.

Many of the best druggists say that no medicine ought to be paid for unless it does the user some good. Solvax therefore sells under a positive guarantee to quickly relieve the worst cases of kidney trouble or your money refunded. Try Solvax today and if you cannot see and feel a decided change for the better just go to the druggist from whom you bought it and tell him you want your money back and he will return it without question.

This is the strongest argument that can be offered in behalf of any medicine. Solvax is sold in Conneltsville and vicinity by A. A. Clarke and other leading dealers.—Adv.

should you lease. Never wears or rusts out; serves you daily with comfortable pleasant heat for your whole house with much less trouble than it takes to run one stove for one room. A million buildings at home and abroad, have been equipped and are immediately put in the "preferred class."

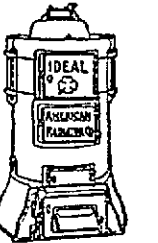

A No. 422-W IDEAL Boiler and 400 ft. of 3/4" AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $100, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, fittings, which vary according to climate and other conditions.

The most important phrase in your building specifications is: "To be heated with an IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiators." When this is done, it settles for all time the question of comfort and economy in your home, for these outfits last for generations; never need repair, and can be operated by a child.

Millions of dollars have been saved to property-owners by IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators in reducing bills for heating all kinds of buildings. Any local fuel including cheapest grades of soft coal, screenings, pea, buckwheat, coke, lignite, oil, gas, wood, etc., can be used with highest results.

Country or city houses, old or new, can be easily outfitted and all dealers everywhere know how to put in IDEAL-AMERICAN heating. You will be surprised at the reasonable first cost, and bear in mind the fuel saving, cleanliness, and absence of labor that you will enjoy as long as your building lasts.

Send at once for our booklet "Ideal Heating" whether you are intending to remodel or build now or later. Call at any of our showrooms, you will not be pressed to purchase and you will gather a fund of heating information which will be invaluable. Act NOW!

The fire in an IDEAL Boiler need not be re-kindled in an entire heating season. One charging of coal easily lasts through the longest, coldest night. There can be no fuel waste.

DOLLAR EYEGLASSES

Such An Offer Is Made Only to Satisfy the Cautious.

No man can test your eyes, furnish the proper lenses and frames for one dollar. He would land in the poor house if he did.

The phrase dollar glasses is used by traveling spectacle fakers to attract your attention and when they get you in the office they always tell you that the cheap glasses will not fit your eyes and that you require their "special ground lenses" and the usual result is they extort from you as much as they can, in many cases from $5 to $20 for glasses that are absolutely worthless. If you have been stung by these fakers, let it be a lesson to you, and do your best to warn your friends against them, and in the future be sure that the man who fits your glasses is a well known reliable local resident. There are several competent and reliable men engaged in the optical business in Conneltsville who will treat you right and give you your money's worth.—Adv.

POIGNANT POLITICS.

The Uniontown New Freedom Standard has for some days past been well-nigh bursting with a great political scandal, which it has been assuming its readers would blow the Republican party of the county off the map. It has filled the air with apocalyptic insinuations concerning the alleged crime of 1915.

After several solemn warnings that it would equate the public with the details of this political scandal unless a certain public official's resignation was demanded, The Standard has shut its wad, and the result would be positively funny if it were not absolutely pathetic.

It is charged that the County Treasurer, a Civil War veteran full of years and honors, stands to lose some $75,000 of the county funds. It is not alleged that he is a defaulter. The funds were deposited in the First National Bank of Uniontown.

According to the story of The Standard, President Thompson of the bank, which is now in the hands of receivers, alleges that the money was loaned to him individually and this is denied by Treasurer Craft. The facts as to the transaction are at this time immaterial. As custodian of the fund the County Treasurer is responsible for it.

If there is any loss it will fall upon him and his bondsmen.

The strict integrity of Captain Craft warrants the assumption that the deficit will be made good at any cost to his personal estate. The demand of a notorious political taker, that he resign his office, is an insult. The captain was a soldier. He has known what it was to face the foe in deadly combat. On the field of honor he won the red badge of courage. To resign his office under charges of other imputations of malfeasance would be to retreat under fire. The captain never did so as a soldier and he will not do so as a civilian. He is old and feeble, "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief," and perhaps broken in bodily health, but his spirit is as dauntless as ever. His integrity is unquestioned. His character is unimpaired. He has been unfortunate but never criminal. There is no reason why he should resign.

The Democratic political bolt has been shot. It has fallen far short of the mark. It is only another illustration of the popular politics of the barefoot combats. The Republican county ticket has not been harmed in the least, but a great deal of warm human sympathy has been created for a lion-hearted veteran who is being bayed by baser men.

Improvements. The constitutional limit of indebtedness is now 75, and if the citizens of Philadelphia want to increase their indebtedness an additional 25% for city improvements it is natural to think that they should be permitted to do so, yet if Philadelphia is permitted to increase its indebtedness, even though for specific purposes, why should not smaller cities and towns? The limit of 75% set by the constitution was placed there for a wise purpose. It was set as a safeguard against extravagance. The question for the voter to determine is whether the debt is too high and whether its 90% of public security can safely be reduced to 75%. If so, he should on this amendment vote "Yes."

Amendment No. 3 is necessary to make constitutional and effective the Workmen's Compensation law. The Workmen's Compensation law is not all it should be, but the principle is admittedly correct, and on this amendment the vote should be "Yes."

Amendment No. 4 authorizes the passage of laws providing a system of "registering, transferring, leasing and guaranteeing of land titles by the state or counties." It provides a means for removing the clouds on land titles, and is very desirable legislation. The amendment should pass. Vote "Yes."

Preliminary to all this, of course, the voter will consider his best interest by voting the Republican ticket. The simple process of marking a cross (marking X) on the square opposite the word "Republican" will do the business thoroughly.

The merchant coke operators are getting their courage up.

Spot coke is hitting the high spots.

It is astonishing how hard the Republican administration of Fayette county gets on the eye of an election.

The Democratic organs which know all about Republican mismanagement in Fayette county keep it dark until election time.

By GEORGE MUGEL
Author of "A Good Old Stew."

Niagara Falls is a small body of water stood up on an end and entirely surrounded by mountains.

It is the largest piece of perpendicular rock in the world and if it were not for the noise made by the surf and the hotel runners in the vicinity its roar could be heard for many miles.

Niagara Falls is the terminus of navigation on the Great Lakes. At a point within easy walking distance of 1,100 hotels, the Niagara river, half a mile wide, suddenly falls without any warning whatever over a precipice 164 feet high, forming the grandest sight in the universe, not excepting the horseshoe curve at New York Grand Canyon.

It is estimated that some 20,000 people a year visit this natural and most wonderful spectacle. It is the only place where a photograph taken while standing beside it with an air of approval.

Niagara Falls was discovered by La Salle who became known as "The Hero of the West" while trying to paddle a canoe from Montreal to the Gulf of Mexico.

He was killed by the Indians in the vicinity and came away without having a single picture postcard, thus making a record which has never since been equalled.

At that time Niagara was in a very wild and uncivilized state. Shortly after the Revolution, however, it was discovered by the Indians and has been in a state of captivity ever since. No capture on earth has been so absurd. It has been bridged, tamed, navigated, jumped over, tight-rope and illuminated. For fifty cents one may ride up to it from below in a boat and puff a cigarette while in its face. For a dollar one can go down behind it in a rubber suit and feel of its ribs. Once the Indians

Have their photographs taken while standing beside it.

Worked up and called it a god. Now tourists ride around it in trolley cars and excursionists throw him sand which he takes as a boy would throw peanuts to an elephant.

Not only is Niagara Falls abused, but it is cruelly oppressed. It must turn the wheels of a hundred factories. It runs the electric cars of Buffalo. It cooks the meals of Buffalo on electric ranges. It heats the milk for the babies, does the washing and runs the sewing machines in ten thousand homes. It might be thought that the power of Niagara Falls is being used for the benefit of the people, but it is not. It is being used for the benefit of the few.

All this in New York State, which spends $100,000 a year protecting the horse from overwork.

Geologists say that Niagara Falls will last about 1,500,000 years longer, but even geologists are not infallible. It is the power of Niagara Falls that is being used for the benefit of the few.

WHEN GAS POCKET IS TAPPED

Is the Most Encouraging Sign Ever Encountered in This Field, and Drillers Are Hoping For Bigger
Flow Soon; Other Notes of News.

Special to This Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Oct. 23.—A great deal of pleasurable excitement has been over this neighborhood with the news that some gas has been struck in the testing being made by the Phillips Oil & Gas Company, south of the James H. Campbell farm, about a mile and a half west of town. The drill at 2,500 feet, it is said, has struck a pocket of gas that has proven sufficient to be lighted and illuminate the neighborhood. A great many people gathered from the surrounding country to see the test at the well on the event of the first striking, which is the most promising sign ever encountered in this section of getting natural gas. The drillers have been working night and day, and may yet get a good flow of gas before they are through.

NEW SMITHFIELD.
The call which the board of the Y. M. C. A. extended to E. H. Dalton of Idaho to take charge of the association work in Scotland has been favorably considered. It is reported, on the part of Mr. Dalton, that he was formerly secretary in New Castle and in coming back to Pennsylvania is merely availing a gain at his home state. Secretary John H. Kibbe expects to leave the latter part of this month to take up his new duties as secretary in a newly created department in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Like Mr. Dalton, Mr. Kibbe came here from Idaho this time.

PASTORS MOVED.
Rev. H. S. Hines and family left on the forenoon train on Friday for Pittsburgh, where Rev. Mr. Hines takes up his work as pastor of the Homewood Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. A short time after the Hines left, Rev. W. Terhune and his family arrived in town by the next train. The two families were exchanging parsonages, the two ministers having been traded, as it were. Rev. Dr. Terhune had to return to Pittsburgh in the afternoon when the Homewood congregation had arranged a special reception to the new pastor and a farewell in honor of the retiring one who had been with them five years. Dr. Terhune said that he had thus far enjoyed any formal reception but could hardly retreat from this one.

He will preach here on Sunday, the morning subject being "The Revelation of Spiritual Realities," and in the evening on "The Gain in Godliness." On November 2 Dr. J. J. Hill, district superintendent of the McKeesport district will be here to conduct the next quarterly conference for the year.

EXTENSION WORK.
L. F. Engle, the extension representative of the Westmoreland County Farm Bureau, recently opened in Greensburg, will hold a meeting at the Elgar school house, west of town, on Tuesday evening, October 26. All farmers and others are invited to these meetings as the outline of the extension work.

SPEECH TONIGHT.
Rev. Edward A. Hohl of Parnassus, said to be a brilliant speaker, will discuss present day issues at a street meeting to be held this evening at Pittsburgh and Spring streets, which is the public forum for Scotland, it would seem, by the number of open air meetings held there.

REAL ESTATE.

One 6 and one 1 room house, 7 acres land, 5 minutes' walk from street car line, for $2,100.00.

CONNELLSVILLE'S REPLY

Connellsville Accepts the Evidence and Many Connellsville Readers Will Profit By It.

Which is the more weighty proof—a few words from a Connellsville resident, whom we know and respect, or volumes from strangers in distant towns? There can be only one reply. F. M. Bechtel, 292 E. Fairview avenue, Connellsville, says: "I was troubled by lameness and rheumatic pains across the small of my back and my kidneys were irregular in action. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the pain and lameness in my back and the action of my kidneys was regulated." (Statement given October 12, 1909.) Over four years later Mr. Bechtel adds: "I have never had any kidney weakness since I used Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bechtel had. Foster-McBarn Co., Troy, Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

SOISSON THEATRE

"THE LITTLE DUTCH GIRL."—In the World Film Corporation's five part photoplay "The Little Dutch Girl," directed by Duffie Chandler, who produced the William A. Brady photoplay, "The Boss," in which Fred Brook and Alice Brady are starred, Vivian Martin, the presentation of distinctive winsomeness, grace and beauty on the screen, has a part which will surely delight her countless admirers in film fandom. Miss Martin has made a personal success in all of the World Film offerings in which she has appeared, and in "The Little Dutch Girl," she makes a delightful addition to the list.

As "The Little Dutch Girl," she develops from a homeless foundling into a pretty maiden whose foster father dies, leaving her alone in the world with a few coins, a cottage and a flower garden. She attracts the love of an artist, but in returning to her home she finds that her ideal is of very common clay. A Bohemian with feminine friends of doubtful morals, she is the poor little Dutch girl, goes away and dies.

It is a poem as well as a picture, with very pleasing views and sets, and a cast of clever actors and actresses to support the beautiful young star, Vivian Martin.

"The Little Dutch Girl," will be shown at the Soisson Theatre today. Also "The Fifty Thousand Dollar Jewel Theft," a two reel film, a drama, featuring Muriel McQuarrie and Edna Payne. This story was taken from an actual happening in and around the Beverly Hills, California, that popular theme—that it is possible for a girl to marry a plain American citizen.

This last picture is the chief attraction at the Colonial Theatre today, and will, in addition to this feature, The Paramount Travel series will also be shown.

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE."

Let Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett, who have written three well moving acts in "It Pays to Advertise," that are full of pathos and drama, in an egg is full of most dramatic incidents. It is a story of a young man who is a success in business, but who is a failure in love. He is a success in business, but who is a failure in love. He is a success in business, but who is a failure in love.

In a way "It Pays to Advertise" presents a paradox—either it works alone for exposure, or it works as a part of a larger plan. In fact, it is just the sort of play that appeals for the reason that its busy action, stirring an audience, note that it is not only a play, but a play that is both helpful and healing.

To properly present the brilliant play, Cohan and Harris will send their own players, among whom will be the famous Shirley Carter, M. J. Sullivan, Gertrude Leander, James F. Mitchell, Daniel A. Anderson, James J. Gardiner, Ruby Holliman, H. N. Dandeneau, Frank McHugh, Doris Jordan, Page Spencer and Fred M. Emerson.

ARCADE THEATRE

"SEALED VALLEY."—Dorothy Donnelly, who is making her screen debut on the Metro Program at the New Arcade Theatre today in "Sealed Valley," made her first appearance on the stage at the old Murray Hill Theatre, New York, in 1907, when she was a young girl. Five years after adopting the stage as a career, she appeared in the principal role of Charles Darnley's "The Little Grey Lady." In 1907, eight years after her first appearance, she became the star in "The Lion and the Mouse" and followed that with the dramatic triumph in "The Sign of the Cross." On February 2, 1910, Miss Donnelly created an entirely new vogue in dramatic acting by her fine portrayal of the title role in Henry W. Sullivan's great production of the French play, "Madame X," and have created another great wave of popularity by her remarkable acting in A. H. Wood's production of "The Song of Songs."

AT THE GLOBE

"HEARTS AND ROSES."—An excellent program featuring many star photoplays will be presented next week. "Hearts and Roses" and "Esquimaux" production in three acts, presenting Darwin Karr, and "The King of Edson Drama," with Gladys Hulette in the leading role, will be shown Monday. Tuesday's program includes "Helen Holmes" in one of her greatest roles, "The Broken Railroad," and "Caught," an Esquimaux drama in three acts, featuring Edna Payne and Bryant Washburn. "The Law of Love," a two-act drama, with Jase Ruben, and "Under Fiddlers' Elms," with Lucille Young will appear Friday in

Gossip of The Motion Pictures

Picture fans are awaiting with interest the opening installment of the J. Rufus Wallingford series at the Soisson, starting with McIntosh, Mary Phipps and Lolita Robinson. The Wallingford pictures will begin next Thursday, taking the place on the bill formerly occupied by "The Diamond from the Sky." The fact that the Wallingford pictures are directed by the Whartons and released through the Pathé management is sufficient to insure merit of high order. The Whartons directed the various episodes of Elzine and are now also producing "Need of the Navy." No producer has yet scored the repeated serial successes of the Pathé people, so the many Soisson patrons say.

It pays to advertise in the movies as well as elsewhere. The Arcade, since its reopening, has been using newspaper space generously, with the result of crowded houses nightly. There is every indication that the patronage will be permanent, because Manager A. H. Wallace is booking exceptionally good films. The Fox features, with Theda Bara, Betty Stinson and other stars, are supplemented on other days of the week by Mutual Masterpieces and films of more than ordinary merit. Theda Bara was seen on the screen here Thursday night for the first time in months. She appeared in "The Two Orphans." Needless to say, it was an

CHAPTER VIII.

Man and the Anafetida Spoon.
DO with the great man who is dis- covering how to put people into some sort of metaphysical pickle that will suspend their animosity until he gets ready to wake them up would hurry up with his investigations, so he can catch Nell before she begins to fade or wilt. Nell, just as she is brought to life about five generations from now would cause a sensation. Some women are so feminine that they are sticky unless well spiced with devilry. Nell's devilness hasn't much seasoning. Still, I do love her dearly, and I am just as much her slave as any of the others. I can't get out of it.

"Do you suppose we will ever get all of the clothes done for the twins?" Nell sighed gently as we sat on my porch, whipping yards of lace upon white ruffles and whipping up our own spirits at the same time. Everybody in Glendale knew for Nell's children, and it takes her all her time to think up the clothes.

"Never," I answered.
"She's coming, and I do believe she has got more of this ruffling. I see it floating down her skirt," Nell fairly groaned.

Nell ought to like to sew. She isn't emancipated enough to hate a needle as I do. But the heaven is working, and she's rising slowly. It might be well for some man to work the dough down a little before she runs over the pan. That's a primitively feminine wish and not at all in accordance with my own advanced ideas.

I was becoming slightly snarled with my thread, and I was glad when Nell and her sweetness seated itself in the best rocker in the softest breeze, which Nell had wanted here.
"Children are the greatest happiness in life and also the greatest responsibility," she said in her lovely rich voice that always melts me to a solution of sympathy whenever she uses it peacefully on me. "Of course I should be devoted without alloy, but what could I do with them if I didn't have all of you dear people to help me with them?"

Her wistful dependence had charm. I looked at the twin with the yellow tuze on the top of its head that has half marked it as the kitten in my mind, seated on Nell's lap with her head on Nell's shoulder, looking like a baby but folded against the full rose, and I couldn't help laughing. It had been undressed three times after her bath this morning, while Cousin Martin, Cousin Jasmine and Mrs. Margrove argued with each other whether she should or shouldn't have a scrap of flannel put on over her fat little stomach. Henrietta finally decided the matter by being impudent and available to them all about the temper- ature.

"Don't you all 'pose God made the sun come to heat up kid's stomachs?" she demanded scornfully as she grabbed the little polyp body at contention and marched off with her to finish dressing her on the front porch in the direct rays of her instituted heater.

The household at large at Wildogholes can never agree on the clothing of the twins, and Henrietta often has to finish their toilets thus, by force. Aunt Della being reduced by her philistia to a position that is almost entirely ornamental, Henrietta's strength of character is the only thing that has made the existence of the twins bearable to themselves or other people.

As I have said before, I do wish that some day in the future you will come under the direct rays of Henrietta's influence. Jane, dear.

"Yes, Nellie, I should call them a responsibility," I answered her, with a laugh, as I reached up my arms for the kitten. Then, as the little yellow head snuggled in the hollow that was instituted in the beginning between a woman's breast and arms for the purpose of just such nestlings, I whispered as I laid my lips against her little ear, "and a happiness, too, darling."

And as Nellie rocked and recuperated her breath Nell eyed the ruffie apprehensively.

"Are you going to let us make another dress for the kiddies, Nellie, dear?" she finally was forced by her unrelenting to ask, though with the deepest sweetness and consideration in her voice.

If I am ever a widow with young children I hope they will bury us all up with the deceased rather than keep me wrapped in a cotton wool of sympathy, as all of us do, Nellie.

"It's lovely of you, Nell, to want to do more for the babies after all the beautiful things you and Evelina have made them, and I may be able to get another white dress apiece for them after I give Cousin James the bills that are awful already, but this is some ruffling that I just forced Mamie to let me bring up to you girls to do for her baby. The poor little dear is two months old, and Mamie is just beginning on his little dress for him. He has been wearing the plainest little alps. Mamie says Ned remarked on the fact that the baby was hardly presentable when you girls stopped in with him to see it the other day. Nell, I urged her to get right to work fixing him up. It is wrong for children not to be kept as daintily as their father likes to see them."

How any woman that is as spiritually minded as I am and who has so much love for the whole world in her heart and such a deep purpose always to offer it to her fellow men according to their need of it can have the vile temper I possess I cannot see.

"And the sight that would please me better than anything else I have even thought up to want to see, I found myself saying when I became conscious—I hope I didn't use any of the oaths of my forefathers which must have been tempting my reined foremothers for generations and which I secretly admire Henrietta for indulging in on occasions of impatience with Nellie—"would be Ned Hall left entirely alone with that squinting baby that looks exactly like him when it is having a terrible spell of colic and Ned is in the midst of a sick headache, with all the other children cold, hungry and cross, the cook gone to a funeral and the nurse in a grouch because she couldn't go and—and he knowing that Mamie was atired in a lovely, cool muslin dress, sitting up here on the porch with us sipping a mint julep and smoking a ten cent cigar, resting and getting up an appetite for supper. I want him to have about five years of such days, and then he would deserve the joys of parenthood that he now does not appreciate."

"Oh, Mamie wouldn't smoke a cigar?" was the exclamation that showed how much Nellie got of the motif of her eruption.

"Glorious!" exclaimed Nell, with shining eyes.

I must be careful about Nell. She is going this new gait too fast for one so young. Women must learn to stretch freedom if it is not to give them indigestion of purpose.

"Still Ned provides everything in the world he can think of to help Mamie," said Caroline, who had come up the walk just in time to fan the flame in me by her sweet wistfulness, with a soft judiciousness in her voice and eyes. "And Mamie adores the children and him."

If one man is unattainable to a woman all the other creatures take on the hue of being valuable from the reflection. Caroline is rather fond of it. It would be rubbing a woman of a privilege not to let her (not the coffee out of her own baby." Nellie got near enough in sight of the discussion to shout softly from the rear.

I have often seen Cousin Martin on one side of the fire trotting the pup and Cousin Jasmine on the other illustrating likewise to the left, so Nellie could take a good nap, which she didn't at all need, on the long sofa in the living room at Wildogholes.

"Ned is a delightful man, unit, of course, Mamie adores him," Nell agreed with an attitude of indul like to the attitude of a body sustained on the top rail of a shaky fence.

"He doubtless would be just as delightful to Mamie standing by dropping anafetida into a spoon to administer to the baby as he is dancing with you at the assembly, Nell," I said, still frothy around the temper.

"He'll never do it again," was the prompt result I got from my shot. "The trouble with you, Evelina," said Nellie, with ruminative reflectiveness in her eyes, "is that you have never been married and do not understand how noble a man can be under—"

"Yes, I should say that you had hit Evelina's trouble exactly on the head, Nellie," came in Polk's drawl as he came over the rose hedge from the side street and seated himself beside Caroline on the steps.

"Well, if I ever have a husband he'll prove his nobility by being competent to make the correct connection between the anafetida spoon and his own baby," was the answer that came with so much force that I couldn't stop it after I fully realized Polk's presence and yet.

"Help!" exclaimed Polk weakly, while Nell blushed into the fold of her ruffie. Caroline looked slightly shocked and Nellie wholly scandalized at my lack of delicacy.

I felt that the place had been reached, the audience provided and the time ripe for the first gun in my general revolution planned for Glendale. I spoke calmly in a perfect panic of fear. "I am glad Polk is here to speak for the anafetida spoon," I said, looking all the three astonished women straight in the face. "Polk, do you or do you not think that a man with a wife and seven children ought to assume at least some of the domestic strain resulting therefrom, like dropping the anafetida in the spoon for her while she is wrestling with the young co-sborn's colic?"

"Do I have to answer?" pleaded Polk, with desperation.

"Yes!"
"Then under the circumstances I think the man ought to say, 'To— with the spoon, grab a gun, go out and shoot up a bear and a couple of wild turkeys for breakfast, throttle some coin out of some nearby business corporation, send two to five trained nurses back to the wigwam, stay downtown to lunch and then go home with a tender little kiss for the madame who meets him fluffy and smiling at the door. That's my idea of true conunabul bliss. Applications considered in the order of their reception. Nell, you are sweet enough to eat in that blue muslin. I'm glad I asked you to get one just that shade."

And the insane chorus of pleased laughs that followed Polk Hayes' brilliant disposal of the important question in hand made me ashamed of being a woman, though it was funny. Still I bided my time, and Polk saw the idling. I could tell by the expression in the corners of his eyes that he kept turned away from me.
